

COMAP WESTCO TOWEL RAIL VALVES TO SUIT THE LATEST LOOKS FOR HVP TOWEL RAIL FEATURE

With an abundance of stunning towel rails on the market, consumers are increasingly selective down to the very last detail when it comes to updating their bathrooms. Which is why Comap Westco has introduced a collection of beautifully crafted, quality towel rail valves that are as stylish as they are functional.

All contemporary classics with a twist, the collection includes the Zone valve, which, with its strikingly unusual peaked head, is designed to make a statement in any fashion-conscious bathroom. For a modern take on a cross top design, Comap has launched the Futura valve, which mirrors trends in tap design.

The valves have been designed with ergonomics firmly in mind: the Spur valve features a small lever, whilst the Spirit valve has a neat thumbprint embedded in its side – both adding visual interest as well as making the valves easy to use.

All Comap towel warmer valves are available in straight and angle versions and suit 15mm pipe. The range also includes chrome pipe and coverplates, to complete the look.

Photo caption: An attractive countertop display stand is available to increase impact at point of sale and showcase each of the six stunning towel rail valves.

5 July 2007

-Ends-